

DAWSON WON THE AUTO RACE

CAPTURED SWEEPSTAKES EVENT IN RECORD TIME WHEN DE PALMA'S CAR FAILED.

Bob Burman Suffered a Few Scratches But No Serious Accident Marred the Day—Twenty-four Cars Started and Ten Finished the Race—Harry Knight, Hero of Last Year's Race, Was First to Quit.

THE CARS THAT FINISHED.

No.	Driver.	Car.	Time.
1	Dawson	National	6:21:06
2	Tetzlaff	Flat	6:21:29
3	Hughes	Mercer	6:24:56
4	Merz	Stutz	6:34:35
5	Endicott	Schacht	6:46:28
6	Zengel	Stutz	6:50:28
7	Jenkins	White	6:52:38
8	Horan	Lozier	6:59:37
9	Wilcox	National	7:11:30
10	Mulford	Knox	(Flagged)

After leading all the way from the start to the 198th lap, Ralph DePalma's Mercedes developed engine trouble and Dawson's National came up from six laps behind and won the second International 500-mile sweep stake automobile race in the record time of 6:21:06. Tetzlaff's Fiat was second. The Stutz company protested the awarding of third place to Hughes Mercer, contending their car, driven by Charles Merz, which was announced as fourth, won the position.

The day was ideal, and not a serious accident marred the sport. Bob Burman, whose cutting turned over in the back stretch, when a wheel collapsed, was able to leave the hospital with a few scratches and viewed the finish of the race.

Twenty-four cars, the pick of American, German English and Italian factories started. A Lexington, driven by Harry Knight, the hero of last year's race, who deliberately wrecked his car to avoid running down the driver of another car who had fallen on the track, was the first to quit, dropping out in the seventh lap. David Bruce-Brown was the next to leave the track. When he found that his National was out for good, he broke down and wept on the shoulder of his mechanic. Others dropped out until there were only ten cars to finish. Dawson drove a steady race, holding second place most of the time after the fiftieth lap. Just before DePalma went out of the race a rabbit ran across the track in front of Dawson's car as he was speeding down the home stretch. The thousands of spectators cheered the rabbit, and Dawson, after the race, said he considered it a good omen.

Jenkins finished his last five laps, driving on the rim of the right front wheel of his White car. Horan, in a Lozier, was pushing him for seventh place and Jenkins feared to lose the time by stopping for a fresh tire. He beat Horan, who had engine trouble, by seven minutes.

Dawson averaged 78.6 miles an hour as compared with 74.6 miles an hour made by Ray Harroun, who won the race last year in his Marmon "Wasp." Harroun's time was 6:42:08.

Dawson pulled up at the National pit with a gas on his grimy face, when he was flagged as the winner, and jumped out of the car as if he had been through a short dash. "I'm not tired," he said, "just happy."

Told that DePalma lost the race only because his engine failed him at the 198th lap, Dawson grinned again.

"I've been up against the same thing," he said. "The game's all luck. I just had a feeling I would win and I never had that feeling but once before. That was when I won the Cole race trophy here in 1910. To day that feeling began to get pretty slim toward the end of this race, but on never can tell till Fred Wagner lets the flag fall."

Ralph DePalma, pushing his dead Mercedes to the electric timing wire for the 199th lap, was weary and philosophic.

"It was just tough luck," he said, "that's all. I made the race when I was in it, and I suppose if I had just mule power on the last lap and pushed my car through the 200th lap I could have got in the money for a thousand or so, but life is too short."

ROOSEVELT SPOKE AT GETTYSBURG

HAD LITTLE TO SAY OF POLITICS AS HE STOOD ON HISTORIC GROUNDS.

Colonel Said Talk of Dictatorship Is As Foolish Now As in War Times—Launched With Locomotive Engineers.

Gettysburg, May 30.—On a mound from which union batteries hurled their shells half a century ago, Colonel Roosevelt today spoke in commemoration of the soldiers who gave their lives at Gettysburg, and urged the men of today to meet the national problems with the spirit of the men of '61.

It was policy rather than politics, which he discussed, although he made an occasional reference to subjects which have been brought up in the campaign.

Before Colonel Roosevelt made his address, which was delivered in the national cemetery, he looked on as the veterans of the day were observed. Veterans of the war, marching haltingly behind their torn flag scattered flowers over the graves of the dead of which there are more than 3,000 here. Their task was lightened by scores of children who walked among the graves from the opposite section until the lines met. A salute was fired by the bugles sounded taps and the band played an old hymn which the soldiers used to sing.

"No man can help being profoundly moved," said Colonel Roosevelt, "when he sees the veterans of the great war and their children children strew flowers on the graves of those who died that we might live. If there be southerners here I know that they can join with the northerners in paying homage to the valor of the victor as well as to the vanquished."

Saying that the soldiers of the Civil war had distinguished themselves not only by the way in which they fought, but in their conduct after the war, Colonel Roosevelt continued:

"In those days just after the war there were foolish people who talked of imperialism and of a dictatorship. They said that the soldiers would organize over our country. One of the great lessons taught was that in six months after the war soldiers could go back to the farm and the shop, and be absorbed in the life of the people."

"The talk of imperialism was no more foolish than it is now. I have too much respect for you than to tell you that you are in no danger of dictatorship. When any man tells you that get him a nurse and a perambulator, for if he really believes it he isn't fit to be a leader. Before going to the cemetery Col. Roosevelt lunched with the aid of a tin cup and paper plate in a tent. In company with the delegates to the convention of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers who have been meeting at Harrisburg, Pa., and came to Gettysburg for the day. It was in the invitation of the engineers that Colonel Roosevelt came here.

As he rose to speak after the luncheon, a man called out "Is your hat still in the ring?"

"I think the ring is in the hat now," the colonel responded.

On finishing his address at the cemetery, Colonel Roosevelt started at once for New York. He said he expected to remain over night in New York and go to Oyster Bay tomorrow. The colonel was asked about his plans for the summer and said that now that his campaign for nomination was ended, he expected to remain at home, with an occasional trip to New York.

DIXON CALLS NEW NARROW AND BIASED

Refusal of 250 Tickets Arouses Ire of Roosevelt's Manager—Will Appeal to Committee Members.

Washington, May 30.—Senator Dixon, Colonel Roosevelt's campaign manager, aroused by the refusal of Colonel S. New to honor Senator Dixon's request for 250 tickets to the national convention for Colonel Roosevelt today sent Colonel New a long telegram in which he charged him in plain language with making Colonel Roosevelt the victim of New's alleged bias in favor of Taft.

"You have on your own initiative allocated 150 tickets to Mr. Taft. It had not occurred to me that any man temporarily occupying a position of trust would be narrow and factional as to refuse a courtesy to an ex-president of the United States."

These are expressions of Senator Dixon. He concluded by saying:

"I shall not permit you as an individual partisan to arrogate to yourself the final disposition of this very reasonable request but shall immediately lay the matter before each individual member of the Republican national committee."

(Signed) "Joseph M. Dixon."

COL. HENRY BAKER DEAD.

Washington, May 30.—Col. Henry Moore Baker, of Concord, N. H., executor of the estate of the late Mrs. Mary Baker G. Eddy, and a former member of congress, died at the George Washington university hospital today after an illness of two weeks.

Col. Baker was born at Bow, N. H., in 1841. He was a member from New Hampshire of the 53rd and 54th congresses.

CONTEST LIST IS GIVEN TO PUBLIC

REPUBLICAN NATIONAL COMMITTEE WILL BE CALLED UPON TO DECIDE 222 CASES.

List Only Three Larger Than Was True Four Years Ago—181 Were Listed by Roosevelt Adherents and 41 by Taft's Friends—Total Number Is Not as Large as at First Anticipated.

Chicago, May 30.—When members of the Republican national committee meet in Chicago on June 6 they will be called on to decide 222 contests.

Four years ago there were 219 contests submitted to the committee. The number tabulated this year is fewer than had been expected, owing, it is said, to the fact that in a number of districts where the Roosevelt adherents threatened to make contests it apparently was decided at the last minute not to make a fight.

Of the 204 contests filed with Secretary Hayward, 177 were presented by followers of Col. Roosevelt and 27 by friends of Taft.

The principal contests filed by the Taft managers are from Missouri and Texas.

In Louisiana three sets of delegates were elected at large and in the first, second and fifth districts, two sets were named by the supporters of president and one was selected by friends of Col. Roosevelt.

More delegates than the number specified in the call for the convention were chosen at large in Alabama, in the fifth district of Kentucky, in the fourth district of Minnesota, in the seventh district of Texas and in the first, tenth and eleventh districts of Georgia.

Secretary Hayward has classed these as contests and the committee will be required to determine what will be done with the cases.

There are contests from 18 states, and the District of Columbia.

Following is a list of the contests filed with Secretary Hayward:

Alabama at large and 2, 5, 6 and 9th districts, 14 contested delegates.

Arkansas at large, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 7th districts, 16 contested delegates.

District of Columbia at large, 2 contested delegates.

Florida at large and 1, 2, 3 districts, 12 contested delegates.

Georgia at large and 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12th districts, 28 contested delegates.

Indiana at large and 1, 2 and 13th districts, 19 contested delegates.

Kentucky, 5th and 11th districts, 4 contested delegates.

Louisiana at large and 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7th districts, 29 contested delegates.

Michigan at large, 6 contested delegates.

Minnesota, 4th district, 2 contested delegates.

Mississippi at large and 1, 2, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8th districts, 18 contests.

Missouri at large and 1, 3, 5, 7 and 11th districts, 14 contests.

North Carolina, 4th district, 2 contests.

Oklahoma, 3rd and 4th districts, 4 contests.

South Carolina, 1st district, 2 contests.

Tennessee, 10th district, 2 contests.

Texas at large and 1, 2, 3, 4, 7, 11 and 15th districts, 16 contests.

Virginia at large and 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 8 and 10th districts, 18 contests.

Washington at large and 1, 2 and 3rd districts, 14 contests.

Alaska territory, at large, two contests.

Joseph Keating, former United States district attorney at Indianapolis, arrived in Chicago today from Texas where he looked after President Taft's interests in the recent primaries and conventions and reported to Chairman New of the sub-committee on arrangements for the convention that Taft and Roosevelt each have six instructed delegates from that state, while the remaining 28 are contested.

Chairman New reiterated his previous declaration that no presidential candidate would be recognized in the distribution of convention tickets, but added that if Colonel Roosevelt came to Chicago and applied for a ticket in person he would provide him with a card of admission even if he had to give him his own seat.

Roosevelt's Chicago managers in a statement issued this evening claim his candidate will have 581 votes, or more than enough to nominate on the first ballot in the convention. They give Taft 191, LaFollette 36, Cummins 10 and class the other delegates as uninstructed.

New York's ninety delegates are divided as follows in the statement: Chairman New of the sub-committee on arrangements tonight said that no other contests than those submitted have been received, but it was possible that a few others might be in the mail bearing an early enough postmark to make them legal.

LOOK FOR STRIKE TO END.

London, May 30.—It is regarded as unlikely, in spite of the deadlock which seems to exist at present that the Longshoremen's strike may come to a speedy end. The tie-up to shipping, especially the large number of grain ships is serious, but London is amply supplied with provisions and prices are becoming normal.

The government is using great pressure to bring about a resumption of work.

ROSE LAID TO REST

Funeral Services in Springfield and at Golconda for Dead Official of State.

Springfield, Ill., May 30.—Simple funeral services this afternoon at the residence on South Fifth street, were held over the remains of Secretary of State James A. Rose, and at 8 o'clock the body was sent to Golconda, where it will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning at the Presbyterian church in that city.

Scores of state officials and employees at the state house, as well as numerous friends of the family, accompanied the body to its last resting place, the trip being made by special train on the Illinois Central.

From 4 until 6 p. m., a constant stream of friends of Mr. Rose viewed the remains of a man who for sixteen years had been one of the most prominent and respected citizens of Springfield.

The services this afternoon were conducted by the Rev. J. H. Stevenson of Brookfield, Ill., former pastor of the Presbyterian church at Golconda. The honorary pallbearers included the state officials.

The active pallbearers were all employees of the secretary office, as follows:

J. C. Peck, Walter B. Weston, Wm. A. Schwarze, Richard Steele, Charles S. Whitney, James McGarvey, W. H. Doyle and Charles Gehrig.

The special train bearing the body of Secretary Rose left Springfield at 3 o'clock to night, and will arrive at Golconda early tomorrow morning. Governor Deneen will be among the state officials accompanying the remains. The governor had intended taking part in the Memorial Day exercises at Chicago today, but cancelled the engagement.

GIVES MEMORIAL ADDRESS.

President Taft Pleas For Principle of American Government.

Washington, May 30.—In the ivy-covered amphitheater at Arlington National cemetery today, President Taft spoke at the Memorial day exercises.

He said that the revolution was fought to bring about the constitution and the Civil war was fought to maintain it.

In closing the president said in part:

"On this day it is the high duty of all the people to revitalize their love of their country and renew their devotion to the principles of government which have made it permanent and useful to the people and to reject, with stern and flint-like front, all light suggestion of change in those principles which it has cost centuries of struggle and heat of blood to secure and maintain."

"Is it not the fact that all that effort and all that we celebrate on the fourth of every July increases in our minds the importance of principles of the Declaration of Independence and the constitution which followed? Are not the limitations of that constitution, its declarations, its divisions into separate branches of popular government, its checks and balances, all of them made sacred and inviolate by the revolutionary war and are they not sealed in the blood of its heroes? And then we come to the greatest calamity to which any nation has ever been subjected. Can we forget that we fought to preserve the union and to maintain the constitution?"

NEW HYDROPLANE SINKS.

New York, May 30.—The baby race, Commodore J. Stuart Blackton's new hydroplane, which has established a record of 46.82 miles an hour, was sunk in collision with a floating log today while competing in the Atlantic Yacht club regatta off Fort Hamilton.

The accident probably removes one of the strongest competitors for the coming International races at Huntington bay.

INSURGENT FORCES GROW IN CUBA

GEN. IVONET ASKS GOMEZ TO VISIT CAMP AND SEE 4,000 SOLDIERS.

Men Are Same as Those Who Fought Under Garcia—Reports Tell of Destruction of Spanish-American Mining Company at Daiquiri.

Havana, May 30.—The government forces at the front in the district in which, bounded by Guanatanamo, San Luis and Santiago, have been compelled to halt in consequence of the weakening of the main body by the despatch of detachments to guard plantations in the outlying towns. General Montegudo, the commander-in-chief of the Cuban army who started from Santiago with 1,500 reinforcements, has delayed the forward movement in order to give his troops 24 hours rest.

There have been numerous outposts skirmishes without definite results.

The most serious news of the day was the report of the destruction by insurgents of the property of the Spanish-American Mining company at Daiquiri.

The insurgents are recruiting rapidly by the enlistment of plantation laborers.

Apparently there is small prospect of greatly augmenting the government forces, the only visible reinforcements being a corps of 700 volunteers now being organized.

Heavy rains throughout Orient have had the effect of halting the military movement and also checking the burning of the cane fields by the insurgents.

President Gomez has received a letter from General Ivonet, in which the insurgent leader says that he, his old comrade in arms, and now president of the republic, General Ivonet writes, "could visit my camp and have ocular proof of the truth of these statements."

According to a Cuban army officer, the forces of General Estenose are composed of the same men who fought under Garcia. Estenose and Ivonet, themselves, were officers under Garcia, and both are excellent fighters.

"It appears impossible that 4,000 or 5,000 inexperienced troops, said this officer, "of which the officers are mostly city bred men with only the rudiments of a military education can have the faintest hope of succeeding where 2,000 Spanish veterans failed in the Cuban war for independence."

Insurgents Burn Cane.

Calumet, Cuba, May 30.—The situation in this district is becoming more critical. The insurgents are burning large quantities of cane, as well as houses.

Engagement at Mayala.

Santiago, Cuba, May 30.—A serious engagement is reported Mayala, near Palma Soriano. The Cuban troops, the report says, inflicted heavy losses on the insurgents.

The insurgent leader Vicente Anaya attacked a plantation near Guanatanamo, firing the sugar cane. After setting fire to a number of houses, they departed, carrying off many horses and compelling the laborers to accompany them.

CHICAGO PAID TRIBUTE TO DEAD

THOUSANDS WITNESSED GREAT MEMORIAL PARADE ON MICHIGAN AVENUE.

Over Five Thousand Boy Scouts in Line—Many Veterans Gave Out Before Line of March Was Finished—Bible Parade at Elgin.

Chicago, May 30.—Under bright skies, and with a tribute to the leaders of the Civil war.

Thousands of persons stood along Michigan avenue and Jackson boulevard and witnessed an unusually long parade in honor of the nation's dead, while thousands of others visited cemeteries and strewed flowers on the graves. Many made pilgrimages to the Lincoln monument in Lincoln park and by night, St. Gauden's Memorial to the martyred president was basked high with floral tributes and American flags.

Only about 2,000 veterans of the Civil war took part in the parade, but many were accompanied by wives, daughters and granddaughters. Automobiles were furnished for those who were unable to march.

Scores who scorned the motor cars at the outset of the journey were forced to stop before their destination had been reached and acknowledged that they were too weak to finish the trip on foot.

A feature of the parade, which was more than two hours passing a given point, was the delegation of boy scouts. Fifty-five hundred of them, dressed in khaki suits and carrying wooden guns, followed an automobile containing three gray bearded soldiers in Grand Army uniforms.

Several lodges, represented by both women and men, were in the parade.

Col. John L. Clem, adjutant quartermaster general, U. S. A., department of the lakes, a survivor of the battle of Chattanooga, was grand marshal of the day. Mayor Harrison reviewed the parade.

All of the suburban cities observed the day. In Elgin 10,000 young men and women formed a "Bible parade," each carrying a bible under his arm.

Gov. Deneen HAS ISSUED CALL

State Central Committee to Confer in Naming Rose's Successor—Church Says He Is Entitled to the Position.

Springfield, Ill., May 30.—At the request of Governor Deneen, Chairman Roy O. West sent out a call from Chicago to night for a meeting of the Republican state central committee to be held in Springfield Saturday, June 1, to fill the vacancy on the state ticket caused by the death of Secretary of State Rose.

Governor Deneen will at that time announce the appointment of Secretary Rose's successor.

When the committee meets the members will be served with summonses to answer in court in an injunction suit to restrain them from certifying to the name of any other than Chester W. Church of Chicago to fill the vacancy on the ticket caused by the death of Secretary Rose.

Mr. Church, who was defeated by Mr. Rose for the nomination at the primary of April 9, will bring suit to enjoin the members of the Republican state central committee from placing the name of any other than himself on the Republican ticket for secretary of state.

Mr. Church contends that he is entitled to the place as under the primary laws of other states, from which the Illinois law was copied. Where a vacancy exists, the next highest candidate at the primary election is entitled to have his name placed on the ballot to fill the vacancy. Mr. Church also contends that the name of Mr. Rose has never been certified by the state canvassing board as receiving the nomination.

State Treasurer Mitchell stated to night that when the board met earlier this week it was agreed that in all cases where there were no contests, the candidates receiving the highest vote be declared nominated.

ALMOST BEHEADED.

Galesburg Man Killed by Aeroplane in Seattle.

Seattle, Wash., May 30.—To avoid hitting a man who ran in front of his aeroplane today, Aviator Clifford Terpin turned the machine into the crowded grandstand at a local aviation field. The aeroplane struck and killed George Quinby, 25 years old, of Galesburg, Ill., probably fatally injured a little boy and in its fall into the crowd added 15 more persons more or less seriously injured to the list of casualties.

Quinby was almost beheaded by the propeller of the machine. He was a marine wireless operator and had returned from a trip to Alaska on the steamer Bertha. He was identified by a ring and laundry marks

Mr. Hairgrove is a brother of City Attorney W. N. Hairgrove of this city, and is one of the leading attorneys of Kansas City. Mr. Hairgrove studied law in this city under Judge Layman and for some time was city attorney for Waverly. The annual commencement exercises of the Jacksonville high school were held Thursday evening in the Grand opera house, before an audience that completely filled the building. It was one of the most orderly crowds that ever assembled there. The program was given a splendid rendition and each one of the speakers could well be complimented. Miss Edith Hillerby acted as pianist as the class marched to the platform. The valedictorian honors of the class went to Miss Minnie Hoffman and the salutatorian honors to Miss Lois Hayden, with third honors to Miss Sylvan Peck. The other three speakers were chosen by the class out of the twenty having the highest grades.

The program opened with invocation by Rev. C. Darsie after which the Treble Clef club, under the leadership of Miss Goodrick gave two selections in splendid voice by a quartet, "Oh, Happy Streamlet," and "White Butterfly."

"The Philosophy of Progress" by Dunlavy was the oration given by Miss Lois Hayden. She possesses a pleasing voice and her delivery was praiseworthy.

Clay Elliott found ample opportunity to display his platform ability in his oration entitled "Leadership of Educated Men" by Curtis, and he was loudly applauded by the audience.

Miss Minnie Hoffman next favored the audience with a violin solo "Der Sohn der Haide" by Keler Beda. She played with ease and musical understanding. Prof. Kritch acted as accompanist.

Miss Sylvan I. Peck spoke on the subject "The New Nationalism." She said in part: "The new nationalism is not the rash generalization of a strenuous national hero, or is it the dangerous propaganda of a demagogue of reform. It does not mean the destruction of the old, but rather the elimination of its inherent evils and the completion, in the true spirit of progress of the work which the heroes of 76 so nobly began. The new nationalism is a name for the spirit of progressiveness, which is sweeping our country. It is at once a renaissance of patriotism and the awakening of a national conscience. It is a stage in the development of a continually developing nationalism." Miss Peck went on to tell that the new nationalism demands further centralization of power in the federal government and for the restoration of that power into the hands of the people. It demands the principles of expansion. Rooseveltian courage lies deeper than its popularity suggests. It is a revised version of the familiar declaration that all men are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights. "The old establishment," said the speaker, "machine ridden and bossed by the forces of corruption will never bring about reform. The old political alignment must go, allegiance to the principle of the new nationalism backed by sacrifice and undying devotion is our only hope."

Miss Ruth Brown, "The Annexation of Canada" was the subject of the essay by Miss Brown. She said in part: "The question of the annexation of Canada to the United States long has been one of keen interest to American citizens. When the colonies revolted in 1775 one of their plans was to seize Canada, but this was prevented by the French Canadians, who proved loyal to Great Britain. In 1812 the United States again tried to overthrow British rule in Canada, but failed. A generation later, it was the dream of Stephen A. Douglas to enlarge our boundaries and create an ocean bound republic. It is said that Canada dreams of another declaration of independence. She is now trying to keep her relationship with England merely a sentimental one with no obligations involved. She is sovereign of her own money and men." Miss Brown showed how that Canada governs her own tariff. Is not socially united with England and there was no political tie that binds her to the mother country except one purely nominal. The speaker told of the large resources of Canada and how that its annexation would solve many of the present problems, such as fisheries, escaped criminals, custom duties, inter-state commerce laws and navigation of waterways. Of the social fusion of the two countries, through newspapers, magazines, currency, church and fraternalities. "Failure, however," said the speaker "would involve a constitutional convention, in which both countries would be drawn up, and new government established and we have little reason to believe that such a government would be any more like ours than like Canada's." In closing her well written and instructive essay, Miss Brown said: "Let us hope that these sister republics, both typically American, may stand before the world, the exponent of complete personal and political liberty and because of their splendid isolations and their manifest sincerity, be trusted by the nations of the earth as faithful guides and arbiters."

Following Miss Brown's essay the Treble Clef club again favored the audience with two selections "Summer Breezes" and "The Bees" by Denza.

The Approaching Democracy. Edward Bullard had as a subject for his oration "The Approaching Democracy." He said in part: "The political situation of the United States at the present time, is in an unusually confused and unsettled condition. Dissatisfaction among the people of this country has been developed during the past few years, some feeling of unrest has been growing, caused by the trend of politics and government. For some reason there has been started a general uprising throughout the country against the present form of state and national government. This uprising may be considered as the herald of a new democracy. Some new tide of sentiment, some revolt against oppression is coming across the country, sweeping with it the long obedient population, who have remained subservient to and confidence in the laws formed by America's earliest and ablest statesmen."

"The speaker continued by showing the various party platforms and stating that the platform of the Progressive Republicans was the same as that of the Democrats. "The various issues of the 1912 campaign," said Mr. Bullard, "do not stand out individually as any of vital importance in deciding the vote, but all the issues of each party are summed up in the one supreme question 'The people's rule?' or the old conservative method? This is the question that fills the mind of every voter, that is the question that will swing the 1912 election one way or the other. The combined forces of Democrats, Progressive Republicans and Socialists fighting for the rule of the people are lined up against the conservative Republicans. Surely in time, this democratic spirit will conquer, since the odds are already so greatly in its favor. The call of the people for equality and justice, the plea for the overthrow of the capitalist and his corporation is now reverberating from coast to coast. The cry for self government, for some recognition of the spirit of human nature, which has been smothered for so long, is now nation-wide."

Miss Minnie Hoffman, then gave in a most felicitous manner Field's selection "The Touch of the Heart" followed by the delivery of the valedictory address.

Influence is an important factor in the development of character. In school as well as in life, experiences influence is received which develops our personality. Because of the fact that the same school influences receive different responses from different students, varieties of achievements are produced. In order to be of any value at all these influences

ROAD OIL AND CHINCH BUGS

Prof. Forbes Advises the Farmers— Tells Them How to Order Oil Direct From Standard Co. at Decatur, and Quotes Prices.

Prof. S. A. Forbes, state entomologist, is getting the information to farmers as how to obtain road oil that is to be used in the war on chinch bugs.

Prof. Forbes sends the following word to the farmers:

"Order direct from the Standard Oil company at Decatur, Ill., at the following prices: F. O. B. Carlinville.

No. 7 Road Oil $3.12 1/2 per bbl.
No. 7 Road Oil $3.42 1/2 per bbl.
No. 8 Road Oil $3.80 per bbl.

Price list on tobacco extract.

In 50 pounds this $7.50 each
In 2 1/2 pound tins $2.60 each
In 10 1/2 pound tins $10.50 each

All orders to be sent direct to the Kentucky Tobacco Products company, Louisville, Ky.

All orders for as much as 150 pounds of tobacco extract the freight will be paid by the above company.

Prof. Forbes recommends most highly the Number 7 road oil as it flows very freely and while it is a trifle more expensive it lasts much longer than the Number 6 oil.

The Number 8 oil requires heating to a degree of 100 fahrenheit owing to its density and when weather conditions are such that it cools to 70 degrees fahrenheit the chinch bugs will cross it but can be made effective by using a small quantity of kerosene.

All orders for road oil will require from seven to ten days for delivery so bear this fact in mind and order soon enough.

Prof. Forbes estimates that under the average conditions one barrel of road oil will keep up a strip, one mile long, for ten days.

It will be noticed that the price is some more than was given at the Carlinville meeting. All oils have advanced the last month and the rates quoted above as low as the Standard Oil company would make.

The barrels can be returned to the company and they would get about 50 cents each for them.

Remember every farmer who orders oil must deal direct with the Standard Oil Co., Decatur, Ill.

This matter can be taken up and discussed at the school house meetings to be held next Saturday night, June 1.

Few, indeed, are left to recall those distant days, preceding the application of steam engines to railroad and steamboat work. But there are plenty who will remember when electricity was considered but a phenomenon and a plaything of nature during terrestrial storms.

GAVE FIGURES ON TUBERCULOSIS

Death Rate in Several Large Cities Compared by Dr. Herman Biggs.

Washington, May 30.—Among the papers read today at the opening session of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis was one on "The Death Rate from Tuberculosis in Large Cities," by Dr. Hermann M. Biggs, chief medical officer of the New York city department of health. Addressing the clinical section, Dr. Biggs said in part:

An impression has been gaining ground in a considerable well-informed section of the medical profession and also among the laity, that the tuberculosis death rate in large municipalities is no longer decreasing, but, on the contrary, is increasing. At the last international congress on tuberculosis in Washington, in 1908, Dr. Koch directed attention to the nearly stationary character of the tuberculosis death rate in numerous cities and suggested that perhaps any further decrease would not be forthcoming until some new features were introduced in the tuberculosis campaign, especially emphasizing the importance of providing adequate hospital accommodation for the care of advanced cases of this disease, in order that infection of other members of the family during the late periods might be prevented.

This feature of the work in prevention has been greatly emphasized on all sides during the last few years and great progress has been and is being made along this line. This, in connection with the development of special clinics and the sanitary supervision of the patients among the poor in their homes, is to a large extent responsible, in my opinion, for the recent decrease.

There can be no doubt that the rate of decrease in numerous countries and cities has been proportionate to the activity and energy with which the campaign for prevention has been carried on. It is my purpose in this paper simply to show death rates from tuberculosis in a few representative cities of the world for the last 50 years, and the percentage of decrease which has taken place.

The death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis in several large American and foreign cities has decreased as follows:

	1901	1911
Gen. Tuberc. Death Rate	19.1	15.1
New York	19.1	15.1
Boston	19.1	15.1
Philadelphia	19.1	15.1
Chicago	19.1	15.1
London	19.1	15.1
Paris	19.1	15.1
Berlin	19.1	15.1

Later figures for 1910. It will be noted that the only one of these large cities in which there has been an increase in the death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis is in Chicago, and I think there may easily be some question as to the accuracy of the earlier statistics here. The most remarkable decrease, not only in the death rate from pulmonary tuberculosis, but taken in place in London. It may be noted that the death rate in Paris is more than three times that of London and twice that of New York and Berlin.

As has often been pointed out, the difficulties in the way of prevention are far greater in New York than in any other large city, but the results which have been obtained in these recent years everywhere where active campaigns have been carried on are certainly most encouraging.

Virgil E. Eschler, who underwent an operation at Our Savior's hospital recently, has returned to his home south of the city. His many friends will be glad to hear of his recovery.

There are people in this town who undoubtedly neglect a "mere cold," although they do not otherwise expose their children or themselves to danger. Yet a cold neglected may develop into contagious diphtheria, bronchitis or pneumonia. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly for its stops coughs quickly and cures colds. It contains no opiates and is safe for children. City Drug store, J. A. Obermeyer.

LUTHERANS AT BETHLEHEM.

Bethlehem, Pa., May 30.—The 165th annual meeting of the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania and adjacent states opened here today with a large attendance. The initial session was held in Grace church this morning with Prof. E. T. Horn of St. Mary's seminary presiding. The proceedings will continue until next Wednesday.

TULSA COURT HOUSE DEDICATED.

Tulsa, Okla., May 30.—Tulsa county's new court house was dedicated today with interesting exercises in which prominent lawyers and jurists from many parts of Oklahoma took part. The court house cost $200,000 and is said to be the finest edifice of its kind in the state.

J. A. Shanks, Lewisburg, Ind., enjoyed a visit from his grandchildren. Both had severe colds and coughed at night. The medicine prescribed failed to stop this coughing so Mr. Shanks took the matter into his own hands and says: "I got a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and after a few doses they went to sleep and slept throughout the night without coughing." ### BIG TASK BELONGS TO COMMISSIONERS

Law Requires That They Select Their Own Associate—Mayor Davis Favors Change in Commission Act.

The city commissioners are confronted with an important task in selecting a member of the council to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Charles W. Brown. As already mentioned under the commission act, a vacancy on the board must be filled by the remaining commissioners without an election. Under the general law when a vacancy occurs, if it is more than a year until another election is to occur to choose an officer for the same post, then a special election must be held. In this particular the general law seems to be stronger than the commission law. To give members of a council the right to select a fifth member of that body who is to serve about three years is placing authority with them which it seems properly belongs to the people. The responsibility of the commissioners and mayor in this situation is certainly grave. Mr. Brown was exceptionally qualified for the departments which he had in charge and it will be impossible to find in Jacksonville any man who is his equal in knowledge of water, electric and engineering affairs as related to the city. No doubt it will be the intention of the mayor and commissioners to select the man whose general qualifications they think best fit him to take up the duties of the department. Among men who have been mentioned for the post, not all of whom are applicants, are the following: Joseph F. Brennan, Daniel Baban, Bernard Gause, W. C. Osborn, W. H. Cobb, U. G. Woodman, William Catherwood and E. M. Henderson.

That the section of the law which gives the commission the right to fill a vacancy is not looked upon with special favor by Mayor Davis is indicated by the fact that he said in conversation yesterday: "When the association of Illinois commissioners Form of government officers meets this fall I intend to introduce a resolution asking the association to go on record as being opposed to that section. I do not believe it is the best plan to vest this authority with the commissioners. If the term of office to be filled were a year or less, then it seems to me it would be all right for the appointing power to be with the commission."

MAY HAVE AVIATION MEET.

Bernard Gause, acting for the Jacksonville Business Men's association, has had some correspondence with the International Theatrical company of New York and it is likely that an aviation meet will be arranged for this summer. The principal attraction for the company is Castorice, who has made many very successful flights. The company is well known and the proposition they make is a very favorable one. It is entirely likely that the Business Men's association will take the matter up as a great many of the business men have not yet given up the idea of having a meet to make good the unsuccessful one of last year.

FAMOUS INVENTOR SUCCUMBS TO DEATH

Wilbur Wright Loses in Battle With Typhoid Fever—End Came Suddenly.

Dayton, O., May 30.—Wilbur Wright, the famous inventor of aeroplanes, died at his home here just before day break this morning after a three weeks' battle with typhoid fever.

The death of the inventor came suddenly at 3:15. The members of his family were hastily summoned from their rooms to which they had retired in the belief that the patient was making substantial improvement.

Dissolution came quietly, without a struggle, in the still hour of the early morning. Beside the distinguished patient were his venerable father Bishop Milton Wright; his equally famous brother Orville; his devoted sister, Katherine; the other two brothers, Lorin and Rouschlin, and Dr. Daniel Peckel Conklin who has been in constant attendance since he took to bed on May 4. At 2 o'clock this morning the usual examination showed that the dying inventor's temperature was high but that the pulse and respiration had satisfactorily decreased. No fear was entertained at this hour, but thirty minutes later the attending nurse noted rapid deterioration.

For approximately two weeks the patient has been unconscious but as his eyes looked about the room in the direction of the nurses, the doctors and members of the family, he gave unmistakable evidence of a desire to recognize them. On Wednesday morning as Orville sat at the bedside, Wilbur smiled faintly. At 7 o'clock Tuesday evening Dr. Spiller expressed the opinion that death might ensue in a half hour, but the patient rallied and seemed to improve until the last relapse which proved fatal.

England Mourns for Wright. The death of Wilbur Wright is mourned in England as the passing of a great man. The newspapers review the romantic story of the Wright brothers' achievements as among the most wonderful in the world's history.

All the London papers print long obituaries and portraits of Mr. Wright and tribute from leading aviators. They dwell upon the fact that the world probably has suffered irreparable loss through his death as he might still have made many important discoveries. The Standard says: "Wilbur Wright has helped to make history and has written his name deep upon its records." The Daily Mail says: "With his brother, he stands forth as the true conqueror of the air, the father of flying."

The Daily Telegraph regards him as the creator of the aeroplane as one of the most remarkable personalities of his time and among the world's geniuses. The Times says: "By Wilbur Wright's premature death the world is deprived of a remarkable and original personality. It cannot be doubted that his achievements are 'immortal'."

Career of Wilbur Wright. Dayton, O., May 30.—Wilbur Wright was born in Henry county, Indiana, April 16, 1867. Orville the sixth child, was born August 19, 1871.

Hampered by heart trouble, Wilbur was compelled to abandon his purpose of attending college. The two boys first started a job printing office and for a while published a small sheet that had a suburban circulation. Then they entered the bicycle business and opened a repair shop at the same time manufacturing bicycles. They began studying flying while carrying on the bicycle business.

Taft's Tribute to Wright. Washington, May 30.—President Taft, who presented the gold medals granted by congress to Orville Wright and his brother, Wilbur, gave the following statement: "I am sorry that the father of the great new science of aeronautics is dead and that he has not been permitted to live to see the wonderful development that is sure to follow along the primary lines which he laid down. He deserves to stand with Fulton, Stephenson and Bell."

PUSHING WORK ON DOUBLE TRACK

Burlington Is Spending Huge Sum For Road Betterment.

B. Violett of Beardstown, who is in charge of the Burlington double tracking work through this city, was here yesterday making an inspection of the work. Chester Nunes is serving as general foreman under Mr. Violett.

The work of installing the double track in this city is an enormous undertaking and means the expenditure of a large amount of money. So far the Burlington officials have authorized the installation of the double track only between Concord and Pisgah, but it is expected that before long they will have the track built farther south.

So far excellent progress has been made in the work. The track has been laid from a point two miles south of Concord to the Mauvaisterre bridge just north of the city. At this point the bridge gangs are enlarging the bridge for the double track and they have already installed the girders and are about ready for the concrete work.

While the bridge work is being done the grading gang is working about two miles south of the city preparing the ground for the track, and it is expected that before long they will have the ground ready for the ties.

One of the bridge gangs is at work constructing a fifty foot concrete arch just south of the Routh street subway. This arch will span the Mauvaisterre creek and will be built wide enough to accommodate a double track and when completed will be a master piece of masonry. There have been as many as six hundred men at work on the double tracking improvement at one time and now they have, aside from the bridge gangs, about seven track gangs, which still leaves a large number.

ATTENTION R. AND S. MASONS.

There will be a special assembly of Jacksonville Council No. 5 tonight at 6:30 o'clock. Please be present. T. P. Carter, T. I. M. John R. Phillips, Recorder.

Numerous Needful Notions at Nimble Prices

HONORED MEMORY OF SOLDIER DEAD

DECORATION DAY OBSERVED IN JACKSONVILLE WITH APPROPRIATE CEREMONIES.

Program at Centenary Church Included Address by Department Commander Gault—Graves Were Strewn With Flowers—Observances Elsewhere.

Decoration day was suitably observed in Jacksonville and the memory of the heroic dead was honored, while lessons of patriotism were taught to the living. The principal program took place at Centenary church and from there a parade moved to Jacksonville cemetery, where the services were concluded and flowers were strewn upon the graves of the soldier dead. Committees visited the other cemeteries, too, and all known graves of soldiers were marked with flowers and flags. At Centenary church Major C. E. McDougall presided, made appropriate introductory remarks and the address was made by Hon. Thos. H. Gault, of Chicago, department commander of the Illinois G. A. R.

The weather was so propitious that an unusually large audience gathered at Centenary church and the number of veterans in the seats reserved for them was larger than usual. The church had been very appropriately decorated with flowers, flags and bunting and there were numerous pictures of war time heroes whom the nation has delighted to honor.

Jeffries' band played a selection and then Major McDougall called upon Rev. W. E. Spaulds for the invocation. The quartet, Messrs. M. L. Robinson, Alex. Campbell, William Moore and Will Kirby sang a suitable number and then Miss Frances English gave in a very finished manner a selection from the Leonard's Spots, "The Home Coming." It was a story of the return of a worn soldier to his home in the south after the war and the quaint and homely pathos was vividly portrayed. The band played another selection and then Capt. W. A. Kirby read from Lincoln's famous speech at Gettysburg. By way of introduction Capt. Kirby told of the time that he and Frank Adams carried the protesting Lincoln to the platform at a political meeting he was to address. The incident happened during the period in which Lincoln was just coming to fame. After another selection by the quartet, which was admirably given, Major McDougall introduced Commander Gault, the speaker of the afternoon. The speaker reviewed the history of the war of the rebellion in a very graphic way, contrasting it with other struggles of great moment, which are recorded in history and pointed out the everlasting debt of gratitude, which the people of the present owe to the soldiers of '61 to '65. Truly, too, was paid to the brave women of that period who did so much to help forward the cause of liberty and freedom. Particular emphasis was laid upon the need for inculcating patriotism in the young men and women of the present in order that the lessons of the past be not lost and of no avail. Some paragraphs and sentiments from the eloquent address are given herewith.

"I first wish to express my thanks for the invitation to be present here to day. Last year you invited me to come, but illness prevented an acceptance of the invitation. As we come to this memorial day and realize that gradually and with certainty the veterans are passing away it is our duty to see to it that the young come into some clear understanding of the debt of gratitude, which they owe to the veterans, who are gone and to those who are still with us. Other organizations seek to grow, but ours only to conserve the welfare of those whose numbers are growing constantly less. Let us hope that when the last old soldier has gone to that other city that the lessons of patriotism those old soldiers have taught will be indelibly written in our minds and hearts. The nobility of men's minds is shown by the degree of appreciation for favors done and so the people of this generation can best display worth of character by venerating the soldiers of the war. This is indeed to day a land of promise and realization. The land of Canaan, the land of promise set apart by God in olden times for his chosen people, grows insignificant by comparison with it. Moses and Joshua and Gideon were no more certainly led by God than were Washington and Lincoln and others of our great leaders. We to day recognize God's boundless gifts and goodness to us. We honor men not only because they were brave, but also because in the providence of God it was their privilege to fight upon the Lord's side in the battle of righteousness. It is hard for the people of this generation to understand the conditions which prevailed fifty years ago. A wicked conspiracy had been formed to extend the era of slavery. Men and women almost as white as you and I were held in bondage. Slaves were sold at auction and slave families were ruthlessly torn asunder. The invention of the cotton gin made the production of cotton with the use of slave labor immensely profitable. Men who previously had some scruples about slavery now became advocates. (The speaker then reviewed briefly the plan suggested to seize Cuba and the other events which came along, leading up to the actual beginning of the war.) Then God, through Lincoln, called for an army of American boys to save the union and to stamp out the dark blot of slavery. The war progressed and not since Calvary has there been such a sacrifice for any people. Four hundred thousands of our comrades laid down their lives and last year 30,000 of those veterans passed away and gradually and sure-

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newb's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ, and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newb's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send for stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

OLD SOLDIER AT BROOKLYN.
At the old time camp fire, which is to be held in Brooklyn church Sunday night, there will be special military music by a quartet and several appropriate recitations by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Alkire. The members of Matt Star Post, G. A. R. and W. R. C. have accepted the invitation to be present and will attend in body. For the L. O. O. F. memorial services Sunday morning one hundred extra chairs will be provided.

Keen of Winchester made the address which held the close attention of his auditors for an hour. At the close of the exercises the procession formed in procession and marched to the cemetery, where the floral emblems were laid on the base of the resting place of those in whose memory the day was fittingly remembered.
Among those from this city who went the day at the homes of friends in Manchester and were present in the park were Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Reuter, Mrs. C. A. Boruff and Joe Mallon. John Brown, formerly of Manchester, was now a resident at the Soldiers' Home in Quincy, was present, as was also Mrs. Ralph Brown of Fairbault, Minn.

At Arcadia a large path run assembled completely. The church at the cemetery was fully as many stood outside. There were a great many flowers and the day seemed propitious for the occasion. Alva Barr presided while fine music was supplied by a splendid choir of young people with Mrs. Clarence Thompson at the organ.
Rev. J. L. Wyler had been engaged to officiate but unfortunately at the last moment he was called to Missouri by the dangerous illness of a grand child and was obliged to get a substitute.
The music by the choir, in a part of which the audience joined, was very fine. The church was handsomely decorated with flags and flowers and the graves of the veterans were marked with flags and all present seemed to join heartily in the spirit of the exercises.
A number of veterans were in the audience and entered well into the spirit of the day. They were:
Alva Barr,
H. B. Baxter,
Lewis Reuter,
A. J. Smith, now of Kansas City,
A. W. Peckham,
J. H. Stewart, of Jacksonville.
Mr. Barr announced the absence of the order expected and the program was as follows:
Song, "America" by choir and audience.
Prayer, S. W. Nichols.
Song, "Marching Through Georgia."
Address of the day, S. W. Nichols.
Song, "Trump, Trump, Trump the Boys are Marching."
Statistics of the war and list of soldiers in the cemetery. Alva Barr.
Song, "Just before the Battle Mother."
Prayer, S. W. Nichols.
A then adjourned to the cemetery, a beautiful spot, where the graves of the veterans were duly decorated by reverent hands with profusion of beautiful flowers.

MEMORIAL DAY AT MURRAYVILLE

Rev. H. S. Alkire Delivers Stirring Address Before Large Audience—Many Comrades Buried There.

The memorial services at Murrayville Thursday were attended by a large audience. Rev. H. S. Alkire of this city gave the address and stirred the patriotic hearts of all who heard him by his splendid tribute to the boys in blue and his appeal to the citizens of today. Special musical numbers were given by a double quartet, composed of Mrs. Iva Short, Miss Lulu Cullas, Miss Stella Cunningham, Miss Mildred Wright, T. G. Gledits, Prof. Dial, Benjamin Wright and Clarence Cunningham and Rev. J. A. Biddle made the opening prayer. Robert Wyatt was marshal of the day.
Rev. Mr. Alkire had for his subject "The Boy Behind the American Gun." He contrasted the American soldier with those of other countries and presented an interesting study of the old soldier, pointing out what his eyes have seen and what his hands have done. He referred to the latter's home, the last message to a dying comrade, the weary march, the call to arms, and other incidents so familiar to those who have passed through the conflict.
The minister paid a tribute to the soldier of the south. "The soldier in gray," he said, "has not been given enough praise. If he wasn't a true fighter why did it take us four years to overcome him. The south had no credit abroad, while the north had an organized government, credit with European countries and a standing army at its command. It is a decided advantage for the boy in blue to recognize the worth of the boy in gray, a foreman well worthy of his steel."

"The Spanish-American war," he said, "founded the death note of the country between the north and the south."

At the conclusion of the service at the church, the crowd adjourned to the cemetery, where the graves of departed comrades were made beautiful with flowers. About twenty-five comrades are buried in the Murrayville cemetery.

Among the old soldiers yet residing in the Murrayville vicinity or who still claim that as "home," are Robert L. Wyatt, Dr. C. M. Ventres, M. H. Parker, Elijah Millon, John Boruff, Abe Wade, John Warner, Joshua DeLong, William D. Henry, Capt. John E. Wright, Charles Henry, George Lawton and Silas Slaughter.

WHERE FIRST MAST WAS CELEBRATED.

New York, May 30.—The Sabbath-like quiet that usually pervades the financial district on a holiday was interrupted this afternoon when a large crowd of Catholic clergy and lay gathered about the United States custom house, in Bowling Green, for the unveiling of a tablet to mark the spot where the first mass was celebrated by a Catholic priest in Manhattan Island. Where the present-day new custom house now stands there stood in the early days Fort James, within the precinct of which the sacrifice of the mass was first offered up in 1623 by Rev. Thomas Garvey, a Jesuit priest who was chaplain to Governor Thomas Broun. The tablet commemorating the event was erected by the Order of the Alhambra, which has for one of its primary objects the marking of places notable in the Catholic history in the United States.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask Armstrong's drug store for the double strength othine. It is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

As "Ed" Howe Sees Life

When a man gets into serious difficulty, it is pitiful to see him floundering around; not one man in a hundred can handle an emergency successfully.

The worst thing that can happen to a poor man is to get in the way of associating with men who have a good deal of money.

A stingy man is not popular; but you must have noticed that he always has money.

People hate this not popular; but you must have right to.

When you fool a man, you harm him; when you instruct him, you benefit him.

There are plenty of able men in this country; but there is a woeful lack of candid, courageous men who accept the truth, and act upon it.

You are always talking of your rights. The first and most important is the right to take care of yourself.

When a man writes or talks a great deal, and people pay no attention to him, it never occurs to him that there may be nothing in what he says; he believes the people are "dull."

Men do the best they can, and the critics say: "That isn't the best way."

"She reminds me," women say of a girl they do not like, "of a rich girl from a little town."

CENTENARY OF NOTED SOLDIER.

Thursday Marked 100th Anniversary of Gen. John A. McClernand.

Washington, May 30.—On this day universally observed as a day for honoring the memory of the soldiers who fought for the union, it seems appropriate to call attention to the fact also that the day also marks the 100th anniversary of the birth of Gen. John A. McClernand, one of the distinguished leaders of the federal army. While his history is a record of a shadow over General McClernand's name, no historian has ever ventured to question General McClernand's patriotism as a man or his ability as a soldier.

General McClernand was born in Hardinsville, Ky., May 30, 1812, but spent part of his life in Illinois. He was a fellow townsman and personal acquaintance of Lincoln. Successful in law and politics, a man of unusual ability and energy, he was a natural enough that he should receive from the president a commission in the army at the beginning of the war. On order of the president General Grant placed McClernand in command of a corps. But for some reason the strongest ill feeling existed between the two soldiers and General Grant took the first opportunity during the operations at Vicksburg to relieve McClernand of his command, pending charges. The charges were not sustained and McClernand was restored to active command. He resigned from the army, however, before the close of 1864.

After the war General McClernand was elected circuit judge for the Sangamon district in Illinois, and in 1876 he was chairman of the Democratic national convention which nominated Samuel J. Tilden for the presidency. General McClernand died at his home in Springfield, Ill., Sept. 29, 1909.

RUSH AND HUSTLE

CONSTANT DRAIN.

Joy in Life Restored.

Respite Evil Effects of Modern Life. Energy and Ambition Can Be Quickly Brought Back.

The rush and hustle of American life is a constant strain on both mind and body. Gradually the human machine wears out under this unnatural strain and nervous debility results. Statistics show that half of the people of the United States are in a run down, nervous condition.

A man or woman in this condition can get little business or success out of life. They feel tired all the time, have no energy or ambition and are gloomy, timid and despondent. They do not sleep well or feel well and life instead of being a pleasure seems more like a burden.

Are you one of these half sick listless, nervous people? If you are, do you know that there is a tonic now being sold that has brought back to old energy and pleasure in life to thousands who have tried it? The name of the tonic is Tona Vita. It is being introduced in this country by a number of physicians. It has been pronounced the greatest medicine ever sold to the public. In each city there is an agent for Tona Vita who will refund the purchase price if the tonic fails to give you complete and entire satisfaction. Let Tona Vita build you up and bring back your vitality and strength. You will be astonished how quickly it acts. The very first dose will convince you what a great medicine it is.

Lee's Rhubarb Laxative is used as an assistant to Tona Vita in cases of chronic constipation. It is a family medicine, pleasant to the taste, containing the splendid qualities of rhubarb. Ask your physician about rhubarb and see if he does not tell you it is the best possible laxative for children.

Coover & Shreve have the agency for these two great medicines in Jacksonville.
